

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT- GOAT HEALTH AND HUSBANDRY HOME DAIRYNG AND CHEESE MAKING

This year the team of veterinarians in Foundation SFS Center for education, research and consulting in agriculture in Novi Sad decided to celebrate the World Veterinary Day 2009 as the starting point of celebration signing Memorandum of agreement by and between Foundation SFS center for education, research and consulting and Farm Amalthea and dairy Bac. Many people had commented that the Vet in their area knows nothing about Goats. This agreement are intended to aid the work together with private veterinary clinic in the care and keeping of Family dairy goats and production of cheese. Veterinary services is a sub-element of sustainable resource management and it fits into strategic approach :

- Food Safety
- Enhancing objective share and participation
- Competitiveness and profitability
- Sustainable resource management

Production of safe and quality products is not the only veterinarian playing role in animal health but also striving hard for the production of good quality animal products and byproducts supporting the health and welfare of humans. Veterinarians invest ultimate efforts for preserving and improvement of public health wherever they are. We all intentionally limit the size of farm's operation in order to maintain the personal quality of our products and continue to enjoy what we do everyday. Our agreement of cooperation provide methods we emphasize natural and holistic health care and treat our animals with the love, greatness and the respect they deserve. It is dedicated along to all those who want to learn how to raise your goats in a loving and humane way. This is our gift of loving kindness, compassion and friendship to customer through the world.
